Richard Bernstein Advisors LLC (RBA), an investment firm founded by former Merrill Lynch Chief Investment Strategist Rich Bernstein, announced today that Terry Ober has joined the firm as a Regional Investment Specialist covering the Northeastern part of the United States. RBA has approximately $1.7 billion of assets under management/advisement and manages portfolios geared toward global asset allocation, global equity allocation, income and promising underdiscovered investment themes.

“Terry is one of the most experienced and respected investment specialists in the northeast. We are happy and proud to have him as the newest addition on the growing RBA team,” said CIO and CEO Richard Bernstein.

Terry will report directly to John McCombe, President of RBA, who added “Terry’s experience and background are ideal for in-depth discussions with financial advisors on RBA’s unique investment views. He will work closely with our key partners Eaton Vance and First Trust on portfolio positioning across our various asset allocation and equity strategies. He is a great addition as we continue to expand and gain increasing awareness of our products.”

Terry noted “Richard Bernstein has an exceptional brand. I am excited to be able to deliver RBA’s ETF based separately managed accounts, Eaton Vance/RBA mutual funds, and the First Trust/RBA unit investment trusts to financial advisors.”

Terry Ober was Regional Vice President for ING U.S. Investment Management, with 23 years of investment experience.
